Safari story

Geoffrey Kent, the founder and chairman of Abercrombie & Kent, is to publish a book recounting his globetrotting exploits. Safari: A memoir of a worldwide travel pioneer is due out on September 10 (published by Harper Collins, £20) and documents Kent's life from growing up in Kenya to creating A&K with his parents in 1962 and the growth of the firm since.

Thailand adventure

The Sarojin in Khao Lak, Thailand has launched an "adventure-moon" with activities including jungle mountain biking, elephant safari, rock climbing in Phang Nga Bay, rafting & ATV racing. The six-night package costs from £1,479pp, including all activities, breakfast and transfers.

Greaves discounts exotic trip

To celebrate the extension of India's e-visas to UK tourists, Greaves India is offering a 35% discount on two people travelling for seven nights around the Golden Triangle, as part of the Oberoi Exotic Vacations Summer Offer. Prices start from £1,850pp (valid for travel until September 30), including British Airways flights to Delhi, breakfast and sightseeing and excursions.

Elegant adds yachting option

Elegant Resorts has launched Sail & Stay holidays for the first time as part of its 2016 programme and is working with yachting expert Ocean Independence. The itineraries include a 14-night Venice to Dubrovnik trip, with two nights at the Aman Canal Grande Venice and a fully-crewed superyacht trip on the Adriatic. Caribbean and south-east Asia itineraries will also launch this September.
